Appleton Mill Operations

To maintain the economic health and competitiveness of the company, Neenah Inc. has announced two strategic actions in the Fox River Valley. First, we have made the difficult to decision to close operations at our Appleton facility. The facility, which produces transportation filtration products, will remain open for approximately 60 days. In addition, we will restart a smaller fine paper and packaging line at our Neenah facility in Neenah, WI.

Closing a facility is difficult because it affects the lives of our loyal employees who have worked very hard to make Neenah successful. We are grateful for their contributions. The company is working closely with employees affected by the plant closure and the local union to provide support during this period of transition.

While these actions were necessary, we continue to invest in our Wisconsin facilities as we work to build a company that will meet the current and future expectations of our customers.
